Middle Distance Won by Visiting
Team—Last Events Determine
Final Outcome of Meet

In the first meet of the season, Saturday afternoon, the Trinity track team defeated Tufts by the substantial margin of 73 to 53. Throughout the first nine events, the advantage wavered back and forth between the two colleges, but in the final events, the Blue and Gold team steadily piled up an overwhelming lead.

Kellam led the scoring for Trinity, taking first place in the 220-yard dash and the shot put, second place in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump, and third place in the discus. Alexander came second with a first in the discus, and second place in both the 120-yard high hurdles and the shot put.

Bob Daut took a first, a second, and a third in the high hurdles, low hurdles, and shot put, respectively. Tetzlaff, of Tufts, led in the Jumbo's scoring, with victories in the quarter and the half. MacLean took the low hurdles for Tufts, tied for first in the pole vault, and finished second in the 220. Absenting themselves temporarily from the tennis team, Ed Craig and Terry Mowbray tied for first in their separate events, Craig halving the high jump with Oliver of Tufts, and Mowbray splitting the pole vault honors with MacLean.

The home team did not show itself to be so strong in the middle distances as in the distance events, where Doug Gladwin saved the mile run and Mountford ran a strong and steady race to clinch the two-mile. Bill Warner's broad jumping pushed the Blue and Gold still farther ahead in the final event of the meet.

PLAYS POSTPONED

The two-one-act plays, "Many Brave Hearts" and "Timbre or Too Many Trees," both written by Trinity students, have been postponed by order of the Senate. Instead of presenting another play this season, the Jesters will give these two plays early next fall.

Westminster Students Will Attend
Vesper Service Here on May 13

On Sunday afternoon, May 13, the students and masters of the Westminster School of Simsbury will attend in a body the Vespers Service in the College Chapel. A pew-end in memory of the late Mr. Cushing, formerly headmaster of the Westminster School, will be unveiled. Charles B. Beach, a graduate of Westminster and Trinity College, will sing a solo, and the Westminster Glee Club will sing as an anthem Beethoven's "Hymn of Creation." The Westminster Glee Club is directed by E. J. J. Cullum, a graduate of Trinity in the class of 1923.

TENNIS TEAM WINS FROM CLARK AND SWARTHMORE

Opening Match Easy Victory—
Final Doubles Decides
Swarthmore Contest, 5-4

The Trinity tennis team won two matches in the opening week of competition of the 1934 season. Last Wednesday Clark was defeated by a score of 6 to 2, and on Saturday the Blue and Gold took a close match from Swarthmore, 5 to 4. Both contests were staged on Trinity soil.

In the Clark match Trinity had no trouble winning from the visitors. The only pair that went to an extra set were Craig and Porter, where the former won. In the last doubles match, between Stein and Greenberg of Trinity and Spencer and Nelson of Clark, each side had a set, but it was growing dark and cold, and as Trinity had already won 6 to 2, it was decided to call the match.

The summary: Cotten (C) defeated Mowbray, 6-4, 6-4; Craig (T) defeated Porter, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4; Spencer (C) beat Denisoff, 6-2, 7-5; Stein (T) beat Nelson 6-4, 8-6; Jackson (T) defeated Graham, 6-3, 6-1; Greenberg (T) defeated Hershman, 6-2, 6-3; Craig and Mowbray (T) defeated Cotten and Porter, 8-6, 6-2; Jackson and Shaw (T) beat Burwick and Hershman, 6-2, 6-4.

The Swarthmore contest was in doubt up to the last doubles match, as each team had won three singles matches and one doubles. Mowbray and Craig, playing at Nos. 1 and 2, participated in the Tufts track meet, where the former tied for first in the pole vault and the latter also shared top honors in the high jump, and as a result Mowbray was tired and unable to give his opponent, Hadley, his usual brand of game, although Craig, benefited by a longer period of rest, won his match. With the exception of the No. 1 singles, all the matches were unusually close.

The summary: Hadley (S) defeated Mowbray, 6-1, 6-1; Craig (T) defeated Whyte, 6-2, 8-6; Denisoff (T) beat Hutson, 1-6, 7-5, 6-1; Stein (T) beat Macy, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4; Hood (S) beat Jackson, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1; Turner (S) defeated Greenberg, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4; (Continued on page 4.)

Gallagher's Wild Pitch in Sixth
Permits Parker to Score
Winning Run

Trinity opened its baseball season last Wednesday by coming from behind to defeat Clark University 2 to 1 on the home diamond. Bill Henebry, Blue and Gold captain, pulled himself out of several bad holes by excellent pitching. Gallagher, after driving in Clark's only run in the sixth inning, threw a wild pitch in the last half to allow Parker to score the winning run for Trinity.

The first five innings were uneventful, with the visiting team hitting somewhat better than the home nine. In the first of the sixth, however, an error by Henebry put Richmond of Clark on first base. W. Mather then forced Richmond at second and stole second base. Gallagher singled and brought in Mather for Clark's only score. In Trinity's half Gallagher walked Kelly who promptly stole second. Parker, Trinity first baseman, then drove out a single to bring Kelly home and tie the score. Kearns was walked and then forced at second by Kobrosky, as Parker got to third base. The winning run was made by Parker when catcher Riley dropped a wild pitch by Gallagher and missed tagging the runner as he slid home.

Trinity's batting was weak, as the Blue and Gold got but three hits, while the visiting nine was allowed eight hits by Captain Henebry. Henebry struck out eleven men and walked one, while Gallagher of Clark (Continued on page 3.)

TRINITY RANKED FIFTH
BY EDUCATION COUNCIL

Median Score Based on Fall Exam
Taken by Students of 399
Institutions

(The following report has been released to the Tripod from the President's Office.—Ed.)

The American Council on Education has compiled reports on the psychological examination given to college freshmen last fall. Three hundred and ninety-nine institutions participated in this test. All of the new students at Trinity were given the test at the opening of college in September.

The following ratings are of interest:

In 1931, the median score of the Trinity College men taking the test was ranked sixteenth; in 1932, it was seventh; and last year Trinity's median score was in fifth place, being surpassed by Haverford, the University of Chicago, Wilson College at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and Black Mountain College in North Carolina. Only twenty-two students of the latter college took the test, which is hardly a significant number.

In point of third quartile rating (which means those students who are superior to half the whole number examined, but inferior to the top-most twenty-five per cent.) Trinity ranked second, being surpassed by Haverford alone.

Trinity Alumnus Appointed Head of Stanford German Department

It was announced recently by Dr. Ogilby that Professor Bayard Quincy Morgan of the Class of 1904 at Trinity has accepted an appointment as Professor of German and Executive Head of the German Department at Stanford University. Professor Morgan is now at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He will complete the year there and will enter upon his new duties at Stanford in the fall.

Hon. Walter E. Batterson Speaks to Students on Merits of Society

During the chapel service on Wednesday morning, April 25, the Hon. Walter E. Batterson, former mayor of Hartford, spoke on the work of the American Red Cross and extended a plea to the students of the College to join the Red Cross.

In his talk the speaker gave a brief account of the work as done by the organization and pointed out that any contributions that might be made would aid in carrying on this work. He went on to say that the Red Cross as a unit was always prepared to take care of those who are unable to care for themselves. He mentioned the aid that is given during such emergencies as earthquake and flood, and went on to say that this aid could not continue unless the organization received the support of the people. Mr. Batterson concluded by presenting the idea to the students that this was their opportunity to show their appreciation for the work that the Red Cross was doing and to take an active part in that work by joining the ranks of those who are already members.

The collection taken up at the service was turned over to the Hartford Chapter of the American Red Cross, of which Mr. Batterson is chairman, for use in its work. The sum amounted to ten dollars and twenty-five cents. Charles T. Kingston, President of the College Senate, was (Continued on page 3.)

LANDSCAPING PLANNED

Brinckerhoff to Map Future Campus of College—Death of Thorne Noted by Board Saturday

Robert B. O'Connor, '16, was elected a permanent trustee at the regular spring meeting of the Board of Trustees on Saturday morning. He will take the place of the late Robert Thorne, '85. Bern Budd, '08, Dr. R. W. Storrs, '17, and J. C. Fitzgerald, '28, were nominated by the board for the alumnus trustee to be elected this spring for a term of three years.

Acting on the report of the committee on grounds and buildings, the trustees authorized the engagement of Mr. A. F. Brinckerhoff, landscape artist of New York, to prepare a plan of the campus showing the sites of all existing and future buildings, with indications of paths, roads, and parking places to be located, and outlining the future planting of trees and shrubs. Mr. Brinckerhoff, a graduate of Cornell, is a landscape architect of experience, and was selected for this purpose by Richardson Wright, a member of the board of trustees.

On the recommendation of the auditing committee, the firm of Kircaldie, Randall & McNab, of Hartford, was appointed to audit the college books at the close of the current fiscal year on June 30.

Those present at the meeting were President Ogilby, Justice McCook, Messrs. Hotchkiss, Smith, Goodwin, Eaton, Davis, Purdy, Thompson, Budd, and Dr. Motten. On Friday evening, previous to this meeting, a session of the joint committee on the policy of the college was called, at which the needs of the library and possible changes in the curriculum were discussed.

In recognition of the death of Robert Thorne, '85, long a member of the board, the following resolution was adopted by a standing vote:

"Robert Thorne, Senior member of our Board of Trustees, served Trinity College faithfully and well. Elected and re-elected Alumnus Trustee for six terms during the years 1897 to 1917, in 1917 he was made a permanent member of the Board; so that this spring he was completing his thirty-fifth year of service as a Trustee. Punctilious in his attendance at meetings, wise in counsel, and stubbornly loyal at all times, he will be greatly missed by his colleagues.

"During the half-century of his connection with Trinity, he saw with satisfaction the College grow from eighty-one students to four hundred and fifty-five. He took even greater pleasure in the financial stability of the College, especially since the endowment was increased at the time of the Centennial. His pride in his Alma Mater gave pleasure to his friends and was a solace to him in his late years.

"To the members of his family the Trustees of Trinity College feel moved to send this evidence of sympathy in their loss. He died too soon—and yet it is good to think of him as he left us, full of vigor and activity."

REVISE THE CHAPEL SCHEDULE

We wish to commend the College Senate for its recent action in renewing the special evening chapel services inaugurated last spring. Although this addition to the chapel schedule was resorted to as a temporary expediency to aid Seniors who had chapel deficiencies imperiling their graduation, the services proved to be very popular with all members of the student body. This latter fact leads us to suggest that perhaps what at first had been resorted to as a temporary expediency might be made a general rule that would meet the favor of all. There has been much controversy in other colleges over the issue of compulsory chapel. It seems very improbable that this requirement can be abolished in the very near future at Trinity. Therefore, would it not be better to adapt our compulsory chapel system more to the convenience of the students?

We recommend that the following system of chapel services be adopted:

- (1) Wednesday and Sunday services to be continued as at present.
- (2) Services on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday to be changed from 8 a. m. to 7.30 p. m.
- (3) No service to be held on Saturday.
- (4) The present system of chapel credits be continued as at present.

Under such a system a student would be able to make ten credits a week, a maximum of one hundred and sixty a semester—twice the number that are required of freshmen. Those who live off the campus and would be able to attend only the Wednesday and Sunday services would still be able to make over their quota.

The evening services held last year were conducted competently by members of the Senior Class. We would suggest that if students were continued in charge of these regular evening services, such duties would be a valuable experience, especially for those who are preparing for the ministry.

At the risk of offending those who are early risers and diligent students, we venture to say that the predominant cause for irregularity in chapel attendance is the present hour at which the morning services are held. Where is the student who has not experienced that ordeal of rising after a five-hour sleep, bolting his breakfast, and running a hundred-yard dash across the campus to the clash of that last string of bells, with a half-assimilated assignment in hand? Let us do away with these sleepy faces and restore the rear of the chapel from its present status as a study hall to its intended purpose as a college chapel.

We are rather pleased to note that an editorial of several weeks ago seems to have brought about favorable results. Anyhow we like to believe that the Tripod was at least partly responsible for the recent commissioning by the board of trustees of Mr. A. F. Brinckerhoff, well-known landscape architect of New York. His services have been secured for the purpose of drawing up complete plans of roads, shrubbery, grading work, and every sort of detail for the general beautification of the campus.

This is perhaps one of the most vital acts that the College has effected in a good many years. It is an accepted fact that first impressions are generally the lasting ones, and certainly the first impression of the Trinity campus is far from satisfactory. That has unfortunately been the case for a long while and a source of anguish to many of the students and those connected with the College. Soon, instead of shifting from foot to foot with embarrassment and apologizing for the city-dump aspect of the barren fields in the Broad Street region, we can show to visitors with a glow of pride the shady groves, gravelled walks, and green lawns. So we join with the rest of the student body in expressing our congratulations to the trustees for this wise action, and we can assure them that they will have just cause to be proud of themselves when the results become manifested sometime in the near future.

A MIGHTY BALLOT

Following up our editorial of last week, we have been doing a little research work among the class records, and the results of our investigation show that, barring the payment of dues by nearly 400 students, the huge total of 23 men will be eligible to cast votes at the polls May 10. This would seem to violate all precedent in the scarcity of voters available, and, while the situation does appear a bit humorous, we cannot see that it is one to be proud of.

Here are the figures, showing the number of men in each class who have paid up through the present term and are, therefore, in a position to vote:

Of course, it stands to reason that a number of men will join the ranks between now and May 10. It would be too ludicrous to see our 10 senators and our College Marshal being selected from the 10 Juniors by a grand total of 23 votes. The question is: how many will become eligible? We renew our plea for a representative vote next week, and ask that every man consider it his duty to enroll. A dollar, which is the truant amount in most cases, isn't much when you consider the responsibility which will rest with the men who will be chosen to represent you next year.

Exchange Student Writes About
Racial Groups in Second
Hawaiian Article

LOOKING AT HAWAII.

By William H. Roney.

II

People and Culture.

The key to an understanding of the great influx of Hawaii's peoples, aside from the Hawaiians themselves, is found in the one word "sugar." Sugar is king in Hawaii, the very life-substance of the islands, economically speaking. With the introduction of systematic sugar cane raising in 1835 and the consequent demand for large supplies of cheap labor on the plantations, thousands of Chinese were imported to the islands in the following years. Although they proved to be excellent laborers, they drifted away from the plantations to find their places in commercial business.

At present they compete with the Caucasians in the majority of small commercial enterprises. Their intermarriage with the Hawaiians has produced an excellent stock of people, and is said to have contributed much to the breakdown of racial and social barriers. Being the oldest of the Oriental immigrant groups, they have by now become fairly well assimilated into the Western culture, although still preserving much of their own fine culture. Possessing a high degree of congeniality and amicability, they add much to the social flavor of Hawaii, and have won for themselves a well recognized place by reason of their industry and traditional persistence in the face of economic difficulty.

Following the exit of the Chinese from the plantations, the Portuguese were imported to replace them, but, like the Chinese, soon moved away from the plantations, until at present only about 2,000 of them remain in the sugar industry. Being of Caucasian stock, their cultural influences have not stood out as conspicuously as those of the Orientals, and one is scarcely conscious of them as a group.

With the cutting off of Chinese immigration in 1898 came a great influx of Japanese as a new source of plantation labor until 1907, when it rapidly ceased as a result of the Gentlemen's Agreement between the United States and Japan. Like the Chinese and the Portuguese, they too have chosen to give up plantation life as a whole, until at present they are the chief coffee producers and small farm owners of the islands.

To date there are some 139,000 of these Oriental people. Unlike other racial and national groups, they have inter-married very little. Thus, they are as yet a very well defined racial group, and because of their unity they have possessed a certain degree of social isolation from other groups.

Despite this fact of relative social isolation, the Japanese have not failed to contribute much of their fine culture to the islands. One is indeed probably more conscious of them as a group than of any other group because of their cultural influences. Their beautiful art is in evidence nearly everywhere. Their artistic temples of Oriental worship are scattered throughout Honolulu, and add a most attractive touch to some of the humbler residential districts surrounding them. Japanese women in their native costumes of beautiful kimonos, gaily colored obis and loose, open sandals, are a common sight on the streets of Honolulu.

TALK ON NEWSPAPERS

Athenaeum Plans Banquet, Invites Governor—New Form of Debate Arranged by Rulnick

"Newspapers and Their Affect on the Henglish Language" was the subject of an interesting and amusing talk given by Rex Howard at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Athenaeum Society, held Monday evening in Seabury 5. The rest of the meeting was devoted to informal discussion and consideration of plans for the annual banquet, followed by refreshments.

The date of the banquet, which will be held in the Rathskeller room of the Heublein, will depend upon the convenience of the Governor, who has been invited to attend. This affair will probably be held some time in the latter part of May, at which time officers for the coming term will be elected and plans for next year discussed.

Although it is hoped that the radio debate planned with Wesleyan will materialize, it is feared that this program will have to be postponed because of a change of policy at the radio station, which makes it improbable that the necessary half hour or hour can be granted to the two teams.

An invitation has been extended by the Rotary Club of Hartford to two members of the Athenaeum to speak at the Rotary's weekly luncheon on May 21. The Athenaeum will be represented by Mr. Senf and Mr. Dumont, who will give short addresses on the positive and negative aspects of the New Deal and its relation to Capitalism. The addresses will be given in an apologetic manner, Mr. Senf espousing the New Deal and Mr. Dumont criticising it.

In the future a new form of debate will be held. Instead of presenting the customary two or four speeches followed by rebuttal, it has been planned on the suggestion of Mr. Rulnick to hold a debate modelled on the procedure of a regular court trial. There will be a judge and a jury constituted of any odd number of men, the plaintiff and defendant being represented by a lawyer and two witnesses. Mr. Rulnick has prepared the details, and it is hoped that after the participants have become familiar with them a debate of this type may be presented before the college and eventually extended into an inter-collegiate contest.

LOOKING AT HAWAII.

Temperamentally, the Japanese people of Hawaii are quiet and noticeably shy by nature. Hence, a new-comer to the islands finds it at first somewhat difficult to become acquainted with them. However, once one comes to understand them, they prove to be a very amicable people, extremely courteous, and delightfully sociable when once at ease with those outside of their group. To the Occidental, the Japanese constitutes a paradox: a rare combination of sad solemnity and, at the same time, of mirthful gayety. Meet a Japanese when he is alone, and you will think the burden of the world rests on his shoulders. See him in a social gathering of his own group, and you will swear he is the happiest man on earth.

The history and present status of other national groups is probably no less important than that of these already mentioned, but cannot be reviewed here. Suffice it to say that the Filipinos are the most recent immigrants, brought here first in 1907, and figure as the largest group of plantation laborers at present. Even these people show the same transient nature as those of former groups. Now many of them are returning to the Philippines and the Orient as a result of a changing plantation policy to give labor to territorial citizens.

All in all, Hawaii's people of diverse national and cultural backgrounds work together with a remarkable degree of social harmony and coöperation, considering the possible chances of racial friction. Much has been said about Hawaii being the "melting pot of nations, where all have equal opportunity and social privilege." Whereas this is true to a considerable degree, yet one cannot use good judgment and be so superficial as to overlook the bare fact that social and economic equality is not as yet enjoyed by all as much as it should be.

There is still a tendency of the Caucasian class, the socially and economically ruling group, to minimize the rights of the Orientals and those of other mixed racial backgrounds. Consequently, many of the younger generation have found it difficult to adjust themselves to the present order. Much of this tendency to refuse social and economic opportunity is due to certain characteristics acquired by various groups as a result of their period of cultural transition. For indeed this is a period of difficult transition for Hawaii's younger generations of Oriental descent. Still appointed to enroll any students into the American Red Cross who gave the dollar required for membership. There were in the first four days of the campaign several men to enroll by donating the above sum, but the number of those who took advantage of the opportunity was far from being representative of the college body. It is hoped by those conducting the Trinity campaign that more men will sign up as members for the ensuing year.

SWARTHMORE DEFEATED
BY NINE IN SECOND WIN

Blue and Gold Hits Ball Hard to Score 12 to 7 Victory—Kearns
Suffers Leg Injury

The Trinity College baseball team won its second straight game of the season by virtue of a 12 to 7 score over Swarthmore at Trinity Field last Saturday. The Blue and Gold found two visiting hurlers for thirteen safe hits, and took advantage of the shoddy fielding of the Swarthmore infield to pile up a big lead early in the game. Trinity may lose its star shortstop, Tommy Kearns, who injured the cartilage in his left knee as he collided with Peters in a play at second base in the fourth inning. This is a severe blow to the team, of which Kearns had been one of the mainstays. Delano Wheeler will take over the shortstop position.

After two were out in the first inning, Patton walked Abrams and Orr hit a long double to centerfield scoring Abrams for the first tally of the game. Trinity came back strongly in its half to put three runs across the plate. With one away, Amport singled to center. Fritzson laced one to the same field, Amport going to third. Kelly's safe hit scored Amport, Fritzson taking third. After Kelly stole second, Parker slammed a single through the box to send in two more runs. Trinity continued to reach Gowing in the second for three runs and four hits. Marquet walked but was forced at second by Patton. Eigenbauer was safe on an infield hit, and Amport flied out to right. Fritzson got his second hit scoring Patton. Two more tallies resulted from singles by Kelly and Parker.

With a five-run lead Patton held Swarthmore in check by tightening up in the pinches. The Blue and Gold added three more scores in the fourth as a result of ragged defensive playing. However, the team from Pennsylvania put on a rally in the fifth and sixth frames to cut the lead to five runs. Bayley Hall relieved Patton in the seventh with the sacks loaded and the score 10 to 6, and set the visitors down in order. Trinity got two in its half, but Swarthmore tallied twice in the eighth. After Hall struck out the first two men in the ninth, he walked the next three, and Henebry was sent in to relieve him. He forced Abrams to hit to Kelly to end the game.

Parker, Amport, Eigenbauer, and Fritzson led the Trinity attack with ten hits between them, while Osbourn and Harlow were the best of the Swarthmore batters.

SENATE MAKES RULING
ON UNION MANAGERSHIP

Succeeding Managers May Not Be in Same Social Group—Term of Office Changed

In the future, no man may become manager of the Union if he is a member of the same fraternity or Neutral group as his predecessor. Under a new constitution, recently approved by the Senate, there are to be two assistant managers, neither of whom may belong to the same social organization as the manager.

Under the new regulations, the Senate is given the power of appointing a Faculty adviser, who will advise and assist the manager, and the term of office of the manager has also been changed so that he will take office in February of his Junior year, and remain there until the following February. In a recent meeting, the Senate also discussed the advisability of passing a rule to prevent any one social group from monopolizing any managerial position, athletic or otherwise. If passed, this regulation will affect the appointment of assistant managers, but will not include heelers or sub-assistant managers.

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

WHEREVER the finest tobaccos grow—in our own Southland, in Turkey, in Greece—all over the world, we gather the very Cream of the tobacco Crops for Lucky Strike. And that means only the clean center leaves. The center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better and farmers are paid higher prices for them. These clean center leaves are the only ones used in making Luckies. Then “It’s toasted”—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm, free from loose ends—that’s why Luckies “keep in condition”—why you’ll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Naturally, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

living under Oriental home influences, they are confronted with a dual-language problem that results in a peculiar sort of pidgin English for many. This is itself a matter of some criticism on the part of many native English-speaking people.

However, those who are fair in their judgment of Hawaii's mixed people will recognize these characteristics as inevitable problems arising out of a period of social adjustment, and will not make them the basis for serious social criticism and economic preference. Time and patience will bring about the desired unity of language and customs, and will see Hawaii's people enjoying as much social and economic equality as can be expected for any similar group elsewhere.
